

Remembering Pappy...

Raleigh Roy Langhoff, longtime resident of Quitman, passed away on May 30, 2022, in Tyler, Texas.

Roy was born in Shiner, Texas on January 5, 1944, to Hilton and Birdie Mae Longhoff. After he graduated from Yoakum High School in 1962, he attended Texas A&M University and obtained his bachelor's degree in Animal/Dairy Science. While at A&M, he was the President of his Animal Science Class.

Roy married the love of his life, Mary Anne, on September 5, 1964, at the Queen of Peace Catholic Church in Sweet Home, Texas. After graduating college, Roy and Mary moved to Tyler. In 1966, Roy began working at Cabell's Dairy as a Foreman and later became a state health inspector. He made Quitman his home in 1977.

Together, Roy and Mary welcomed three children, Robert, Lisa, and Sheri. Roy was a member of Holy Spirit Catholic Church in Holly Lake Ranch and former board member of Fouke Water Supply.

Most of his life he was involved in many aspects of agriculture from dairy farming, to raising cattle and poultry production. Pappy enjoyed his afternoon drives checking on his animals and catching up with his friends. Roy also enjoyed watching and attending Aggie football games and tailgating, but most of all loved being "Pappy". His grandchildren were his whole world.

Roy is welcomed into Heaven by his parents Hilton and Birdie Langhoff; and two brothers, Claude Langhoff, and RC Langhoff.

Left to cherish his memory is his loving wife of 57 years, Mary Anne Langhoff of Quitman; three children, Robert Langhoff and wife Candi of Winnsboro, Lisa Murray of Corsicana, and Sheri Mathison and husband Justin of Paradise, Texas; seven grandchildren, Alex Bailey and husband Jaxon, Amber Cox and husband Kade, Cain Langhoff and wife Camri, Nolan Murray, Kenleigh Murray, Austin Mathison, and Payton Mathison; four great-grandchildren, Joleigh Cox, Gia Cox, Luke Bailey, and Lily Bailey; and numerous friends.

The Last Corps Trip

It was Judgment Day in Aggieland
And tenseness filled the air;
All knew there was a trip at hand,
But not a soul knew where.

Assembled on the drill field
Was the world-renowned
Twelfth Man,
The entire fighting Aggie team
And the famous Aggie Band.

And out in front with Royal Guard
The reviewing party stood;
St. Peter and his angel staff
Were choosing bad from good.

First he surveyed the Aggie team
And in terms of an angel swore,
"By Jove, I do believe I've seen
This gallant group before.

I've seen them play since way back when,
And they've always had the grit;
I've seen 'em lose and
I've seen 'em win,
But I've never seen 'em quit.

No need for us to tarry here
Deciding upon their fates;
Tis plain as the halo on my head
That they've opened
Heaven's gates."

And when the Twelfth
Man heard this,
They let out a mighty yell
That echoed clear to Heaven and shook the gates of Hell.

"And what group is this upon the side,"
St. Peter asked his aide,
"That swelled as if to burst with pride
When we our judgment made?"

"Why, sir, that's the Cadet Corps
That's known both far and wide
For backing up their fighting team
Whether they won, lost or tied."

"Well, then," said St. Peter,
"It's very plain to me
That within the realms
of Heaven
They should spend eternity.

And have the Texas Aggie Band
At once commence to play
For their fates too we must decide
Upon this crucial day."

And the drum major so hearing
Slowly raised his hand
And said, "Boys, let's play The Spirit
For the last time in Aggieland."

And the band poured forth the anthem
In notes both bright and clear
And ten thousand Aggie voices
Sang the song
they hold so dear.

And when the band
had finished,
St. Peter wiped his eyes
And said, "It's not so hard to see They're meant for Paradise."

And the colonel of the
Cadet Corps said
As he stiffly took his stand,
"It's just another Corps Trip, boys,
We'll march in behind the band."
