Desert Investigations

This week we'll be studying about the amazing Saguaro cactus. We'll learn how it grows, stores water, and provides homes for many animals. We'll also learn how many animals survive in the desert. Here are some fun photos of our cactus investigations last week.

Oh The Places We'll Go!

This week we're going to take our first "fieldtrip" to a famous place in the USA. Mrs. Wessman has to be gone to Idaho on Thursday and Friday this week, so Gwen Payne will be our sub, and she's going to do a special presentation about the White House and her encounter with Ronald Reagan. Gwen Payne is a recently retired, much-loved Rogers School teacher, and she'll take great care of your kids!
