This is My Day

This is my day, so let it be Spring;
Let the sun shine through a sky of blue,
and the birds can sing and sing and sing.

This is my day to enjoy my life,
To learn to accept my trial and strife,
And be grateful for the gift of life.

This is my day a new friend to be
To someone who has need of me.
That, dear Savior, I may be more like thee.

This is my day as the sun slowly sets
To remember the joys of the day
And quietly close it with no regrets.
