

Dorothy was born on her family farm south of Dickinson on January 12, 1931, the daughter of Joseph and Rosemary (Hutmacher) Miller. Dorothy married William Tormaschy on May 28, 1951 at St. Joseph's Catholic Church in Dickinson. The couple was blessed with 68 years of marriage. To this union, four children were born; Willard, Delores, Walter and Warren. Together, Dorothy and William operated a diversified dairy and grain farm. She was a lifetime farmwife, enjoying life in the country until 1995 when the couple retired from farming and moved to town. Dorothy volunteered her time at the Arc Aide for over 15 years. She enjoyed visiting with family and friends. Dorothy is survived by her daughter, Delores Amundson of Williston; sons, Willard (Luane) of Dickinson, Walter (Tracy) of Gladstone, Warren (Vicki) of Dickinson; eight grandchildren, ten great-grandchildren; sisters, Betty Kuntz of Dickinson, Evelyn Wehner of Dickinson and Catherine Machunze of Dickinson; brother-in-law, Ralph Tormaschy of Manning; and sister-in-law, Loretta Miller of Lefor. She is preceded in death by her parents, Joseph and Rosemary; husband, William; son-in-law, Glenn Amundson; brothers, John, Joe, Art, Frank, Mike Miller; sisters; Laura, Rose, Lucille.

To You

*When the sun rises for the first time
Without you there
I'll remember all the yesterdays
We have shared*

*And I'll try not to let my heart fill with sorrow
When I think of all the tomorrows to come
Even though we didn't get our chance
To say all that we wanted to say*

*I know you've loved me
As I've loved you*

*And you'll be missing me
As I'll be missing you*

*So when the sun sets for the first time
Without you by my side
I'll keep you close in my memories
For the rest of my life.*
