To My Children and Spouses February 2000

If you are caught upon building your worldly empire to the point you are not balanced in thought and effort with the things of the spirit — you need to take account of your life. Only things of the spirit will save you and your family. Equal time pondering the scriptures, Family Home Evening, family prayer and temple attendance — these are the things that will bring down the blessings upon your children and will be the refuge you need for your family.

God in Heaven requires this of us. We must love Him and His Son first and show it by our thoughts, actions and the way we perform. (Jacob 2:18-19)

The temples have been built for us and if we do not take advantage of them we will be sorry. He promises us He will bless and protect our children — families — if you will.

I love you, Dad

To My Grandchildren February 2000

God loves each one of you, even more than I or your parents do.

Do you realize how fortunate you are to have been born into the only true church of Jesus Christ and under a priceless covenant?

If you want to be successful in this life “materially and spiritually”, you will have to keep the standards of His church. (Jacob 2:18-19)

If you do not, you will regret it. You will make bad choices, you will be confused and frustrated. You have been advised to associate with friends of your own principles. You can be kind and have love for all. If their actions will not conform with your standards, stay away from them. Run away as Joseph did.

You have a choice — you can live so you will have the influence and protection of our Father and the Spirit, or you can follow the pride of the world and be lost in the mist of darkness and eventually be most miserable.

I love you, Grandpa
