When Tomorrow Starts

When tomorrow starts without her we ask why she couldn't stay. It's hard to see God's purpose when He works in mysterious ways.

Family and friends now bond together to try to understand. While soft tears flow down our cheeks as we hold another's hand.

The love she had inside of her was shared with all the rest, and those of us who knew her well, consider ourselves truly blessed.

Her laughter could calm a river, and her smile could warm the heart. Her giving personality was like a brilliant work of art.

So many strengths and talents were seen, and the love for her flowed deep. Treasured in our hearts, the loving memories we will keep.

Her body is gone forever, but her spirit will never die. And we are comforted by knowing that she's watching us from high.

When tomorrow starts without her, don't think we are far apart. Because every time we think of her, she's always in our hearts

"Some people come into our lives and quickly go, some, however, stay for a while and leave footprints on our hearts, and we are never ever the same."
