The Life Story of NATISHKA ISHALETTE JACKSON

Natishka Jackson was born on February 20, 1988, in Las Vegas, Nevada, to Sonya Thomas and the late Teddy Lawhorn. God called Natishka to her final resting place on August 1, 2024.

Natishka confessed her hope in Christ at an early age at Holy Ghost Temple under the leadership of Pastor Gary Thomas. She was known by all as "Tish," a name that resonated with love and respect. Tish attended Kit Carson Elementary and Rancho High School in Las Vegas, Nevada, where she was an avid student and a people person.

Tish was hands-on and upfront, always the family protector. She was straight out in her approach to life and others. Her intelligence was evident in many subjects, specifically the Word of God. Tish was well-versed and knowledgeable in different trades, always striving to keep it 100% in everything she did.

Tish will be well-remembered for her love of family and her loyalty to her friends. She will be sorely missed. Tish cherished her grandmother, Margie Ann Jackson, and her sister, Tykesha Jackson, who were very close in age and seldom apart. Tish had many friends, and her family knew her to be sincere. She enjoyed spending time with them all, especially during holidays and birthdays.

Natishka leaves to cherish her memories: her mother, Sonya Thomas; her grandmother, Margie Jackson; her three brothers, Jemaine Trotter, Harrison Mathews, and Isaiah Thomas, all of Las Vegas; five sisters, Inika Jackson, Tykesha Jackson, Shavonte Malone, Harquesha Matthews, and Dorothy Davison, all of Las Vegas; two uncles, Gary Thomas and Rodney Thomas, both of Las Vegas; two aunts, Leslie Glaze, who played an active role in her life, of Las Vegas, and Tami Jackson Sullivan of Tampa, Florida; 36 nephews and nieces; and a host of cousins, relatives, and friends.

Preceding Natishka in death were her father, Teddy Lawhorn; her grandfather, Wesley Jackson; and her great-grandparents, Willie and Annie Thomas, and Willie and Hattie Payne, all of Las Vegas.

Rest on, Natishka. We loved you, but God loves you best. We shall meet on that peaceful shore.

Family & Friends

As her sisters, we remember Natishka with love and honor through this poem:

Sisters' Song

Inika's gentle voice, a guiding light,
Through every storm, she stood upright.
Her strength a beacon, her heart so wide,
In her love, we always confide.

Tykesha's laughter, like morning's dawn,
In her smile, our worries were gone.
She carried hope, pure and strong,
In her embrace, we all belong.

Shavonte's wisdom, deep and true,
In her counsel, skies turned blue.
Her words a balm, a healing thread,
With every tear, she softly led.

Harquesha's spirit, wild and free,
She danced through life with endless glee.
Her joy a gift, her soul a breeze,
In her laughter, we found peace.

Dorothy's love, a sheltering wing,
Through every trial, she would sing.
Her care a blanket, warm and sure,
In her presence, we felt secure.

Together we stood, hand in hand,
Bound by love, a sisterly band.
Through life's journey, near and far,
Our hearts will keep you, wherever you are.
