Would you please add June Biggerstaff to your prayer list? She has been moved to a memory care facility and is no longer able to attend church services. She is fighting macular degeneration and dementia along with a few other health issues. Prayers would be greatly appreciated. Thank you. From: Conni Biggerstaff conni@biggerstaffs.com

When you suffer and lose, that does not mean you are being disobedient to God. In fact, it might mean you are right in the center of His will. The path of obedience and faith is often marked by times of suffering and loss. By: Charles Swindoll
