Key Concepts for Spiritual Growth

Christian beliefs are not arbitrary propositions to which a Christian must consent. Instead, they are guidelines for living that impact the relationships between the Christian, God, and other people. Consequently, our beliefs shape our unity in the faith.

NAMES OF GOD

IATROS - PHYSICIAN

Scriptures sees sickness and death as by-products of sin. And it was to solve the sin problem that Jesus came into the world.

Though the Jews used physicians, they believed healing came ultimately from God. He was Hahweh Rophe "the Lord Who Heals." What's more, their Divine Healer had given them a set of laws that included hygienic practices that contributed to their health and to their staying power as a people.

How to Hear the Voice of God

The Whispering Spot - The inner ear. Don't just listen to God with the outer ear. That's how things go in one ear and out the other. Give God a second hearing, with the inner ear. That's how truth gets from your head to your heart of hearts. And maybe, that's how to get from the outer courts into the inner courts—the Holy Place, where God manifests His presence!

From Isaiah: So is my word that goes out from my mouth: It will not return to me empty, but will accomplish what I desire and achieve the purpose for which I sent it.

Listening doesn't happen by default, it happens by design. You have to seek solitude, seek silence. You have to ruthlessly eliminate distractions. And you have to turn some voices down or tune them out altogether. It might be as innocent as talk radio or as innocuous as social media. Why not turn off the radio and talk to God during your commute? Or fast from social media for a season? Or take a silent retreat?

Change of pace + change of place = change of perspective.

Sometimes a little change of scenery goes a long way in helping us hear God in new ways.
