My Little Story

Mariah Renee Jackson was born on December 10, 2018. She was a very special little girl with a huge heart, full of love for everyone she met. God blessed us all with her precious gift of love and although her time here was short, God said her job on this side was complete and it was time for her to return to Him.

Mariah "Tweety Bird" as she was nicknamed by her dad, Dewayne, was a joy to everyone and she never met a stranger. She was a very loving little girl who would often tell her family members how much she "really, really loved" them. Mariah loved to be outdoors, often picking flowers and giving them away. Mariah loved the color blue.

Mariah was preceded in death by her biological father, Jabyo Bell, great grandparents, Tommie J. Keith, Annie Mae Harris, Rose Mary Harris, an uncle, Trey Edwards, and her maternal great grandmother, Joann Allen.

Mariah's memories will forever be cherished by her mother, Ashley Harris of Statesboro, GA; her father, Dewayne Jackson of Statesboro, GA; her brother, Javon Terrell Jackson, her sisters, Ajanæ Jackson, Samiyah Jackson, La'myiah Butler, Laniah Patterson and Janiyah Royal all of Statesboro, GA; maternal grandparents, Tonya (James) Keith of Daytona, FL; Johnny (Kathy) Harris of Vero Beach, FL; paternal grandparents, Sebrina (James) Mincey of Statesboro, GA; Wayne Jackson of Statesboro, GA; maternal great grandmother, Jean Keith of Ft. Pierce, FL; paternal great grandmother, Grace Millen of Statesboro, GA; she is also survived by her aunts Antoinette McNair, Tierra Edwards, Tori Edwards, Malika Hill and Latifah Bell; uncles, Johnny Harris, Jr., Johnny C. Harris, Antwan McNair, Antonio Keith and Antron Bell. Mariah is also survived by many other relatives and friends.

Mariah

Though it wasn't long, time is eternal and is only limited by the clocks and calendars we perceive. A feeling, a yearning for someone else's soul. To bond with, to feel love for that soul. To care for that person. Love has no limits, one month or one year.

Love and time are something we humans will never fully understand. Then, the first moment comes as you sit alone and realize your love is gone. I have thoughts of you that I can't hide. My feelings for you have yet to subside.

Maybe it's the feeling I get when you're around, or maybe it's because when I hear your sweet voice is the most calming sound. Mariah, you are deeply loved and will be truly missed. Grandma loves you more than words could ever express but has picked your beautiful blue flower cause He surely loved you the best, so until we meet again sleep well babygirl

Rest In Heaven
Love Always Grandma
