Mrs. Davidson's Class

What we did this week:

Joshua-I finished three math lessons in an hour and a half!

Havilah-We worked on WritingCity.

CarissaJean-We talked to the other students (from BVAS) on FaceTime about our science projects. Handwriting is fun, especially coloring the border sheets at the end of the week. I also love the creativity we do every week in art.

Gabriel-It was fun learning about our new program WritingCity. I think I'm going to enjoy it.

Braxton-I like SpellingCity, and that we're practicing catching in PE.

Erica-I love school!

Nolan-We learned about George Frideric Handel, and that he wrote very good music.

Reesie-I liked catching and playing games in PE

Remember that there is no school for grades 1-8 on Monday.

On Tuesday we are going on a field trip to Candy Apple Orchard, so be sure to sign the permission slip that went home today, or sign the yellow line on the sign-in sheet for Tuesday. Have a great weekend!

Teacher Martha's Class

Me on the Map is the name of our theme book this week...You guessed it, we are learning about maps! From a map of our bedrooms, to the map of our classroom we have drawn maps. We made a treasure map and had Teacher Holly's class use our map and find the treasure. They did it! We have explored what is on a map, different types of maps, what a map shows...all about maps! The kids have really enjoyed seeing and gaining a bit more understanding about the world around them. It is a big concept to grasp, but we have talked about our house, our street, our town, our state, our country and our world.

We have been doing a lot of sorting, and classifying. We started graphing our weather. So far the sunny days have won...hoping for snowy days soon! We have graphed our pets in our home...most of us don't have pets and of the pets we do have, the cats win by 1! These kiddos are smart and are learning so much. We practiced our numbers to 20 and sent them home to work on putting them in order with our parents.

We have received some map and book donations. Thank you to all who have donated to our classroom! Please remember to bring back your reading log and room cleaning checklist for a book and surprise! Have a wonderful weekend!

Teacher Holly's Class

This week started with a chilling activity. As we discussed the changing weather and ice on the windshield, I decided to explore the world of ice. We watched it melt when placed in hot water, stay the same in ice water, change color as it melts with food coloring in the cup.

Bible story is about Choices. Mary and Martha. Martha chose to worry about getting everyone fed and the fact that Mary wasn't helping. Mary chose to spend time with Jesus. Which do you think is the better of the two?

Matching is a fun way to learn same and different. We matched letters by color and shapes, numbers and animals.

Going to the zoo was awesome. Seeing so many different kinds and talking about how God created them and Adam named them all.
