

Together Again

*When her husband passed away
the loneliness began.*

*He was her life, her everything,
her sweetheart and her man.*

*Family and friends drew closer
but she wasn't quite the same.*

*They knew how much she missed him
for she often spoke his name.*

*She knew that God would never let
death be their last goodbye,
for true love is forever,
and doesn't end because we die.*

*On the day she left us,
she smiled and said his name.
Then followed him to Heaven.
They're together once again.*
