Miss Me But Let Me Go Home!

When I come to the end of the road,
And the sun has set for me,
I want no rites in a gloom filled room
Why cry for a soul set free?
Miss me a little – but not for long.
And not with your head bowed low.
Remember the love that once we shared.
Miss me, but let me go home.
For this is a journey we must all take,
And each must go alone.
It's all part of the master's God plan,
A step on the road home.
When you are lonely and sick at heart,
Go to the friends we know,
And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds.
Miss me - but I must go home.

Love your son

In Memory of Grandma

By Michele Meleen

Memories grow
and memories fade,
But memories of Grandma
never go away.

Her smile rests in mine,
her hands help me sew,
her love fills my heart,
her spirit runs through my soul.

In memory of Grandma,
the trunk of my tree,
I live my life as her legacy.

Rest Well Auntie

Hey, Auntie I see you took a walk to the other side. A side where there's no sickness, no suffering, no worries. A side of joy, no pain and "everlasting peace". Rest well your "work is done here". He called you home because you completed the work, he assigned you to do. One thing Auntie, you left me with these three weirdos Cee, Moy-Moch. Hey players mess up to.

Love you, see you on the other side.

Eccleastes 3:1-20

Your Nephew, Darryl
