July, 2019

Irrigon Seventh-day Adventist Church

#07-2019

Sometimes the business of life can be overwhelming. In June as soon as the graduations were done, the next week I was off to camp meeting up in Spangle, Washington. Now this week we are in the middle of Vacation Bible School. Next week we were going to have a family reunion at our home but as life would have it we had to cancel and we need to be in Portland for 2-4 days instead.

That is not to say that we are not blessed by all the activity. I'm happy to celebrate with all the new graduates and encourage them as they take some bold new steps in their lives. I'm happy to be in the junior tent at camp meeting where I got to meet more than 50 amazing 9-13 year olds to find out what God is doing in their lives and share with them the Gospel and how it has impacted my life. I'm blessed that God has sent 30-40 children to vacation bible school each day so far so that we get to share with them the difference Jesus makes in our lives. Even our trip to Portland really needs to happen to make someone's life bearable.

Through all the busyness that seems to be thrust upon our lives, we can't forget God in the midst of it. While we are working show Jesus to others we can't let our walk with the Lord suffer or we won't have anything to share. I'm reminded of Jesus' example. Though He was continually surrounded by people it says in Luke 5:16, "16 So He Himself often withdrew into the wilderness and prayed." NKJV Though it may seem like you have too much to accomplish, remember "you're too busy not to pray."
