Our Superhero

To be a superhero you don't need to have superhuman powers
Or spend your time fighting villains for countless hours.
A person with the will to make the best of their circumstances
Can be a hero to the masses.

This is Layton, our brother, our uncle, our friend, our son
Whose love, light, and inspiration is matched by none.
We each have our memories with him we share
Of laughter, of stories, of activities, and moments of unspoken care.

He battled through incredible odds and far beyond
With love for life and in the most beautiful way to respond.
With his positive outlook he overcame his own catastrophe
And became a superhero to all his friends and family.

In loving memory of Layton F. Funk
