Kayaking/Canoeing in the Potomac

Another fun family adventure is kayaking and/or canoeing in the Potomac River. Our favorite spot is Jack's Boathouse, which is located right under Key Bridge in Georgetown (3500 K St, NW Washington, DC). They've been in operation since 1954 (April thru Oct) and are very low-key. Just rent your boat (canoe, kayak, tandem kayak or rowboat) for an hour or two – they provide life jackets, paddles, etc. Bring a picnic and enjoy a unique view of the monuments! Beware -- the islands sprinkled through the river are filled with poison ivy so be careful embarking! For more info and rates, go to www.jacksboathouse.com
