

*How can I put into words
the love I've grown to know?
Like most things that last,
it's happened very slow.*

*Ups an downs, trials and fears,
but always love throughout the years.*

Just like the seasons, things change from year to year

but we make it through together, with laughter and plenty of tears.

*Winter turns to spring and summer turns to fall,
and so goes life until the last call!*

*Through it all I'm not sure our love
could get much stronger, but I do know if I'd have known you sooner...*

I could have loved you longer!

"Love you more, Jen"
