

Biography

Patricia Marguerite Connelly Piccard was born March 9, 1932 in Somerville, Massachusetts. At a young age, Patricia moved with her parents, 3 brothers and two sisters to Charlestown, Massachusetts where she lived until after graduating from high school. Patricia attended Chelsea Memorial Hospital Nursing School where she earned her degree as a Registered Nurse. Patricia worked as a registered nurse for over 35 years and was especially proud of the work she did in a wide range of settings within the nursing profession.

Patricia met her husband, Nick, when he was in Boston, Massachusetts while serving in the US Navy during the Korean War. They were married on June 5, 1954 and had three children, Denise, Jan, and Pamela. Patricia lived in many different places within the US over the years with her husband and family. Eventually the family settled in Boise, Idaho and she considered Boise as her home for almost 50 years. Patricia enjoyed traveling with family and discovering new places. She loved music and musical performances and was an avid reader. Patricia was beloved by her family, and she particularly loved spending time with her grandchildren and great-grandchildren.
