Pastor's Note

Paul begins 1 Corinthians 12 with these words: “concerning spiritual gifts, brothers, I do not want you to be uninformed.” (ESV) He goes on to describe an organic system where each organ and appendage relies on the other with Christ as the head. We just passed through the end of a decade and the beginning of a new one. The change from past to present is just as real for the Clark Fork Seventh-day Adventist Church as it is for the change of the year. God has good plans for us in this new year. He invites us to partner with Him in the ministry and purposes that He leads us into. One of our visions for this new decade describes children participating in our worship services and ministries: “We see children and youth who are prioritized everywhere and actively participating in every aspect of our church and ministry.” God has called our children to be part of the body. He has invited them to share in the responsibilities of worship and discipleship and evangelism just like he has invited us. Let's find ways to prioritize and invest in and involve our youth in this new year.

Happy Sabbath!

I trust in your unfailing love;
my heart rejoices
in your salvation.

Postlude

I am the door. If anyone enters by me, he will be saved, and will go in and out and find pasture. The thief does not come except to steal, and to kill, and to destroy. I have come that they may have life, and that they may have it more abundantly. I am the good shepherd. The good shepherd gives his life for the sheep.

John 10:9-11 (NKJV)
