THANKFUL FOR THANKSGIVING

Today your child will bring home leaves that show people and things they are thankful for. We have read many books about Thanksgiving this week and discussed thankfulness. We also made a video we're excited for you to see about turkeys – very educational, of course! It will be part of our school-wide Thanksgiving presentation available online Monday. More details will follow.

Also coming home today is our harvest corn craft. We threaded pony beads onto pipe cleaners to replicate some of the natural corn we studied in class. This was great fine-motor practice for us and a fun way to make some take-home decorations you can enjoy at your Thanksgiving table.

CLASSROOM ITEMS

- We are keeping water bottles at school until Tuesday, when they will be sent home for the break for washing. Nap bedding will be sent home Monday afternoon.
- On Monday, November 23, our school will be providing takeout Thanksgiving meals for grandparents and elderly members of our community. On that day, your student will be fed the Thanksgiving meal (vegetarian loaf, mashed potatoes, green beans, salad, rolls, and cobbler) for free as well. If you feel your child will not enjoy this meal, please send a packed lunch.
- Shoes – For school, athletic-type shoes are the most practical and safe. They are appropriate for outside play and comfortable enough for children inside as well.
