Roy's Life Journey

Rrallel Eugene Flamer was born on March 15, 1972 in Baltimore, Maryland to Cecil E. Flamer and Louise Y. Flamer. He departed this life on September 7, 2019.

Rrallel was educated in the Baltimore City Public School System. He attended Morgan State University and then as a young adult, relocated to Savannah, Georgia. A genuinely nice person, he was affectionately known by his friends in Savannah as "Roy" or "The Picture Man." He remained true to himself, regardless of what others thought.

Throughout his life "Roy" worked in a variety of areas: as a businessman, entrepreneur, photographer, events planner, and sales representative. He always went above and beyond what was expected to satisfy his clients.

Additionally, he enjoyed his work through Sirens Imaging Group, Hamptons of the South, Urban Connect, Upward Bound, and Blazers in Bow Tie Against Gun Violence. These organizations afforded him the opportunity to serve as a positive role model to the youth and young adults in his community.

"Roy" and his fiancé Bionca shared a very special bond.

Love for his family and close friends sustained him, but most importantly, he often shared that his greatest purpose in life was being a good father.

Rrallel leaves us so many special memories. Yes, we will miss him, but in Savannah, Baltimore and elsewhere, but his spirit will live on forever through his legacy and through all of us.

Rrallel leaves to cherish his memory ...

Reflections...

Rrallel, I am saddened by your passing at such a young age, but I know that you had given your life to Christ. The Bible says, "Absent from the body, present with the Lord." God is going to see us through this separation, and He will take care of me. As I reflect on your life, from your birth to your last breath, I have wonderful memories of you and our relationship. Your spirit and love will always be in my heart. You were a good son. Rest in Peace.

Ma

Rrallel, I cannot recall how many times I have been asked the meaning of your name. My answer has always been "I do not know" because it was the result of my effort to give you a uniqueness as a child of the 70s. It is not a complete fabrication but my recall of the research that led to its derivation is long since lost. So, by my meaning of uniqueness I think that you have served the name I gave you well.

You were unique as a young child in that you were so VERY particular about what you wanted to wear and the coordinate of colors. You were unique as a young man in choosing the direction you would take for determining your life's work in a less than traditional way (by my standard). As a young adult you were unique in your decision to leave the familiarity of where you grew up with family and friends (an existing support system) to adopt Savannah as your home.

I am profoundly proud of you for everything you have achieved as a father and person and the lasting impressions and reputation I am told you leave in this community.

I was joyfully present when you took your first breath on March 15, 1972 at 12 noon but devastated and heartbroken to get a call September 7, 2019 at 11:42 that you had taken your last. We have come full circle in this universe so suddenly and in such an unexpected way for me. I will cherish my lifetime of memories of you RRALLEL

Dad

Rrallel, you are a very special brother. I love that you always did things your way, regardless of what other people thought. Although we often had disagreements, they would never last. That's because the love was ALWAYS there. There is nothing I wouldn't do for you. I'm sure you knew that. So now you are resting in peace. I know that you will watch over and guide us. You will be DEEPLY missed.

Mailaka

Dad, I love you sooo much! I wish I could have held you a little tighter when I saw you last. You were the only Dad I ever knew, and you did an amazing job as my role model. Everything you did for your girls, family and friends was out of pure love and you will forever be respected and loved for that! Kace will carry your legacy and always remember you as his "Poppy." Continue to be by our side every step of the way. We can feel you! You are deeply missed Daddy!

Jazmine

Daddy, thank you for creating my passion into my dream; the torch has officially been passed... now guide me my angel.

Onyx, Your wild card middle child

Daddy, thank you for admiring me as your baby girl, and giving me the name "Taylor Flamer -The Greatest Woman Alive."

Taylor

A Letter to My Love...

I've been searching for the right words to say. Something that would embody who you are, what our relationship meant, the time we spent together... and to be honest, I don't believe there are any. Our experiences together surpass any words that can attempt to describe them. From our first date at Maxwell's to the day you took your last breath, I am grateful to have been by your side through it all. And for that... I just want to say, "Thank you."

It's ironic that those were your very last words to me. Although, at the time... I wasn't sure what you meant. But as I think more about our last moments together, it seems you were possibly sealing your heart and soothing mine with those words. To reassure me how appreciative you were... in preparation for your departure. It's these moments that show your true character. Even in your most vulnerable state, you put others first. Thank you for your selfless and unconditional love you presented, even in those moments I didn't quite understand.

Moving on without you will be a challenge every day. You would often joke about being "the brains of all this" ... and I must say, you are just that baby. Since you've been gone, I've been asking myself what you would do in certain situations. (Pray for these people because you were always the nicer one lol.) And I can hear you echoing in my thoughts, "Bionca you shouldn't do that." But it's comforting knowing I have a piece of you watching out for me, even when you can't be here physically. For the moments of my uncertainty, I know my little annoying angel will be there to guide the way.

I could go on about the impact you've left in my heart and my life, but this letter would never end. So, in all, thank you baby for loving, supporting, directing, and pushing me. My relationship with you stretched every aspect of my life. It forced me to grow. It's been rewarding watching you the last nine years. You lead by example... an amazing father... loving partner... stood by your word... held true to your unwavering beliefs... displayed integrity... uncompromising dignity... a true friend... strong work ethic... and those are just a few ways to describe you. I'll forever miss our inside corny jokes, late night snacks, and laughter until we choked.

From all of the words I've searched, these rings the truest... Life for me will never be the same.

Love you,
Bionca
