MISS ME, BUT LET ME GO

When I come to the end of the road

And when the sun has set for me

I want no rites in a gloom-filled room

Why cry for a soul set free

Miss me a little but not too long

And not with your head bowed low

Remember the love that we once shared

Miss me but let me go

For this is a journey we all must take

And each must go alone

It's all a part of the Master's plan

A step on the road to home

When you are lonely and sick at heart

Go to the friends we know

And bury your sorrows in doing good deeds

Miss me, but let me go.

Yolanda's LIFE STORY

Yolanda Bonita LeCato (affectionately known as "Yogi") was born June 15, 11952 to the late Charles W. LeCato and the late Margaret Taylor LeCato, in Philadelphia, PA. She was the fifth of six children.

Yolanda was educated in the Philadelphia Publicschool system. She worked various jobs before being employed at the former Bayak Cigar Company. She eventually went on to pursue her passion of cooking by attending culinary school and getting a job as a cook at Office of Emergency Shelter Services (OESS) with the City of Philadelphia.

Yolanda was a free spirit, fun-filled person with a big heart, who loved to dance. She often and unselfishly opened her home to family and friends in need of care and compassion. She was a loving and devoted mother, sister, aunt and friend.

On October 27, 2023, Yolanda was called to God's Kingdom for her eternal rest. She is preceded in death by two brothers, Eugene K. LeCato and Conrad LeCato, Sr. and two sisters, Christine Lecato and Sonora LeCato Brown.

She leaves to mourn her passing, the love of her life, her daughter, Tamika C. LeCato Lewis, her Son in law, Donne! Lewis and her youngest sister, Lauren LeCato and a host of family and friends.
