For Today: Salt

What did Jesus mean by, “You are the salt of the Earth?”

*You are the salt of the earth, but if salt has lost its taste, how shall its saltiness be restored? It is no longer good for anything except to be thrown out and trampled under people’s feet. You are the light of the world. A city set on a hill cannot be hidden. Nor do people light a lamp and put it under a basket, but on a stand, and it gives light to all in the house. In the same way, let your light shine before others, so that they may see your good works and give glory to your Father who is in heaven.
(Matthew 5:13-16)*

According to Dictionary.com, salt of the earth means “an individual or group considered as representative of the best or noblest elements of society.” The disciples and apostles of Christ may be compared to salt because of the savory doctrines they preached and their savory lives and conversations. They were the salt “of the earth”; that is, inhabitants not of the land of Judea only, but of the whole world into which they were sent to preach the Gospel.

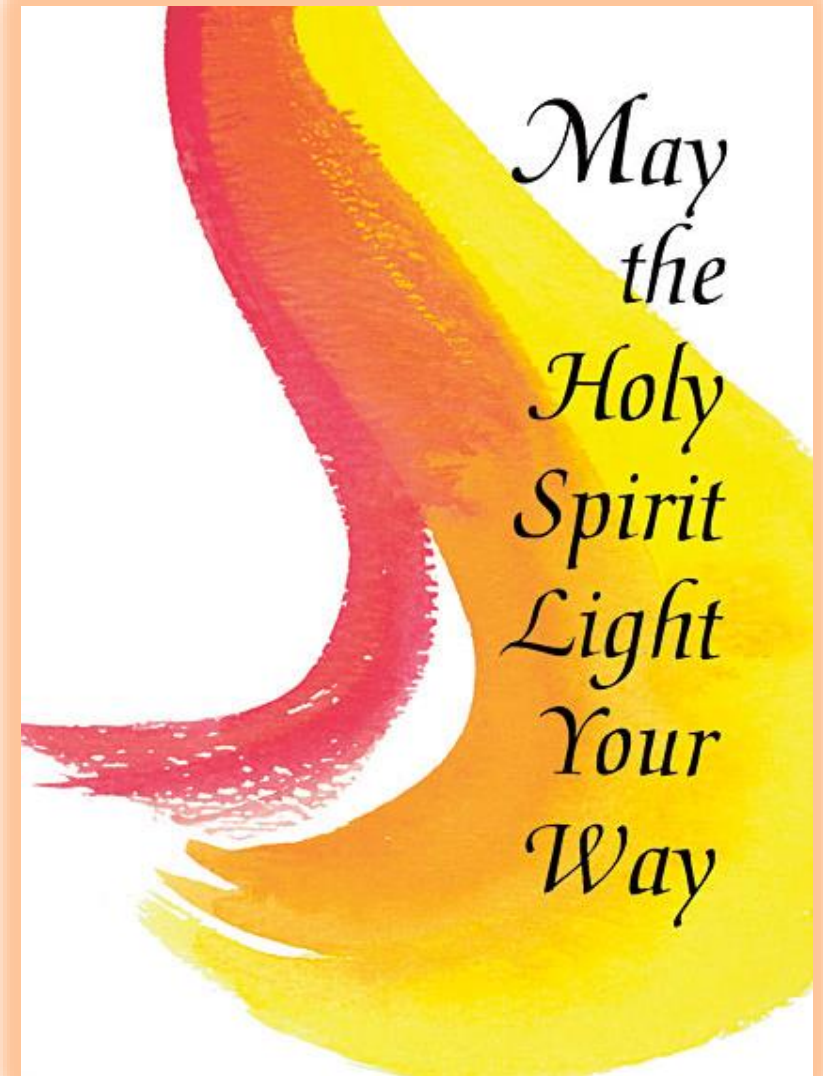

Salt is used as a preservative to save meat and food from spoiling as Jesus saves our souls from damnation and separation from God for sinning and falling from grace. Light shines outwards and brings visibility just as spreading the gospel allows others to see the truth of Jesus and salvation by faith. Jesus, during His memorable Sermon on the Mount, declared that believers were the “salt of the earth” and advised that it was possible for them to lose their flavor. If believers lost their “flavor,” they would be of no benefit to others. They would then only be deserving of being “thrown out and trampled upon by men.”

For many years, salt was used to reduce the corruption of meat and other foods so that they would be edible for a longer period. Christians who obey God and do his will serve as a preservative of the human race, by slowing down the moral and spiritual decay of the world around them.
